Brahmatal Trek

Overview :

- Brahmatal trek is one of the best trekking points in India that comprises alpine lakes to treat your eyes. It can be an incredible adventure experience for you if you are taking a trip to Uttarakhand.
- You can best enjoy the trek during winter to witness the snow-clad beauty of Himalayan peaks on the horizon of alpine lakes along the trails. Hence, the best time to book your package is to do Brahmatal Trek in the months of December, January, and February.
- The trek takes you through the journey of Lohajung to Gujreni before you travel to Tilandi before you finally reach the Brahmatal summit top. The stunning visuals of Himalayan peaks along the lush green meadows and the occasional glimpses of Nanda Ghunti (6390m), Bethartoli South (6318m), Bethartoli Himal (6352m), Trishul (7120m) from the clouds are worth going for this six-day trekking trip to revitalise your soul.
- The journey also presents you with the continuous sight of the outer wall of Nanda Devi Sanctuary. From the dense forests to snow-covered meadows and staying in the lakeside camp bases, Brahmatal trek trails can offer you many surprises. Contact us at Universal Camper for such amazing offers.
- The walk through the woodland is one of the many wonderful aspects of this hike. The stroll will invigorate you and bring you closer to the peaceful side of life. Rhododendrons may be seen growing in pockets here, and their colours are stunning. The majority of the trees are very short, and as you go through them, they create a canopy that casts shade. When you glance up, you'll find that these tree branches have been arranged to form a roof. You will also be able to observe the ceiling of their blooms blooming in March and April. During the winter months, this whole area is covered with snow. The hikers are in for a really pleasant surprise when they reach the lake. After participants have worn themselves out with long journeys and steep ascents, the most rewarding aspect of the tour is finally revealed: a stunning lake. The lake is a stunning focal point that dominates the view from everywhere in the field. This is such a unique feature.

The majority of the treks pass by lakes that are located in the centre of mountain ranges. However, this lake is located smack dab in the centre of a field. It is comprised of a few trees, making it an ideal location for photographs.
